A U.S. Air Force veteran with 12 years of experience as an Imagery Analyst and Airfield Operations Officer, Adam McNany understands the unique and robust skill sets that military candidates possess. In his role as Senior Partner at Lucas Group, he strives to convey these skills to employers to fill critical staffing needs with highly talented military candidates.

During his tenure in the Air Force, Adam deployed twice to the Middle East and finished first in his class at three different Airfield Operations Officer courses. After leaving the Air Force, Adam worked in the packaging industry as a Production Supervisor, Process Improvement Leader and Area Customer Service Manager. While there, he developed a passion for sales and enjoyed meeting the needs of his clients. In order to merge these skills, Adam decided to pursue a career in recruiting.

Adam came to Lucas Group in 2015 with more than four years of experience recruiting military candidates. In his role, he partners with America's industry leaders to help identify, meet and hire the U.S. military's top performers when they leave active duty. Bringing a unique combination of military, manufacturing and recruiting experience, Adam is able to make ideal matches that benefit both his like-minded candidates as well as his clients.

Adam holds a B.S. in Geography from the University of Nebraska at Omaha. An avid sports fan, he enjoys watching baseball, football and soccer as well as spending time with his family and volunteering with his son's high school band.
