In the world of recruiting, intuitiveness is a highly-desired trait, one that goes a long way in helping to understand candidates' and clients' needs. Being sensitive to both parties' desires—knowing their goals and understanding how they intend to reach them—can help make a successful, long-term match. Senior Partner Haden Bohannon skillfully learns the inner workings of his clients and candidates and uses this knowledge to help find and fulfill challenging and rewarding positions.

With over 15 years of experience, Haden spent the majority of his career in sales with AT&T, where he was an award-winning Account Manager working with Global, Midsize and small business accounts. Also an entrepreneur, he started a small business and sold products in specialty stores throughout metropolitan Atlanta. Following his tenure at AT&T, Haden joined the Sales and Marketing division at Lucas Group, where he is able to utilize these experiences to bring a unique perspective to his connections with his candidates and clients.

At Lucas Group, Haden's goal is to make solid matches based on a foundation of shared goals and aligned skills. He enjoys improving careers for his candidates and helping his clients succeed in their objectives, a combination that ultimately benefits all parties. Haden's dedication to his work and drive to succeed are unparalleled, and his positive attitude and outlook allow him to always see the positive traits in people, positions and organizations.

Haden not only strives to positively impact his candidates' and clients' career and businesses, but he firmly believes in pursuing a position that is fulfilling and enjoyable—a philosophy he follows in his own career. Haden finds he is most productive, happy and satisfied in life when he enjoys what he is doing and finds reward in his work. In his spare time, Haden enjoys spending time with his wife, traveling and reading.
