Hoping for an ideal outcome is never a good strategy for success. Knowing this, Jamie Cullen diligently works to create ideal solutions to bridge together top IT professionals with leading employers. His persistence and dedication to finding the right fit for each position leads to long-term placements that last throughout entire careers.

Jamie came to Lucas Group in 2017 with six years of full-cycle IT recruiting, business development and marketing experience. In his role at Lucas Group, he pairs high-performing IT talent with leading employers throughout the state of Florida. Throughout his career, Jamie has made strategic placements that yielded success for both his clients and candidates. Always striving for the best possible outcome for all parties, the highlight of Jamie's career was when a candidate's Mother called to thank him for bringing her son home after he had been working in the Middle East. Jamie's competitiveness as well as his ability to truly listen to and decipher his clients' wants and candidates' needs allow him to make consistent, mutually-beneficial, long-term placements.

An avid traveler who has visited all 48 of the continental United States, Jamie enjoys seeing the world with his wife as well as watching college sports. He was also asked to train for the summer Olympics for competitive swimming and continues to enjoy the water today. Jamie holds a B.A. in Interdisciplinary Studies with an emphasis in Marketing, Spanish Language & Culture and Political Science from the University of South Florida.
